Abbotsford Police

Constable Gerrits and Constable Troughton (see photo) went above and beyond the call of duty today. They dropped off two of our students this morning when they saw their vehicle with a flat tire. As well, they will be a presence in Abbotsford schools this week to support our students. Thank you!

LION KING HELP NEEDED

Mr. Lilly is inviting anyone interested in helping out with making the costumes for our Lion King Production to meet tonight, Monday, November 7th at 5:30 pm in the Home Ec Room. The purpose of this first meeting is to introduce ourselves, share contact information and discuss what time and weekday suit everyone best. Photos of the costumes will be shown and discussed, as will the many animals being created.

Please consider helping out even if you don't think your sewing skills are great. We need as many willing volunteers as possible. As well as sewers, we can use volunteers to cut out material using patterns. Having this job done saves the sewers a lot of time and allows them to be far more productive with their time.

Each production, our sewing groups become a tight knit group of friends and each evening they are together becomes a time of fun and sharing. I'm looking forward to meeting many of you Monday night.
